Dear all

Attached is a copy of the comment document hand delivered by the Delaware Riverkeeper Network to the PADEP offices in Norristown today before the close of the DEP offices regarding the 2010 PPA document regarding the Bishop Tube site.

Pura vida*,

* "Pura vida, a characteristic Costa Rican phrase, literally means pure life, with connotations that suggest translations such as "full of life", "this is living!", "going great", or "real living".^{[13][12][13]} The phrase can be used both as a greeting or a farewell, as an answer expressing that things are going well, as a way of giving thanks, or showing appreciation.^[14] In modern-day usage, the saying goes beyond its simple translation: it's a way of life. It is a perspective to life that evokes a spirit that is carefree, laid back and optimistic." (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Culture_of_Costa_Rica)

*"Pura vida. ... in English means, "Pure Life". However, these two words have much more meaning throughout the Costa Rican culture..... Associated with many different English interpretations like "pure life", "take it easy", "enjoy life", "all good", "purity in life", "hello", "goodbye", "this is life!" and many many more.

Pura vida! Means that no matter what your current situation is, life for someone else can always be less fortunate than your own. So you need to consider that maybe...just maybe, your situation isn't all that bad and that no matter how little or how much you have in life, we are all here together and life is short...so start living it "pura vida style".
